Why Movie Trailers?

It is a fact that students take advantage of learning real English when authentic material is used in the English lessons. Watching English movies is a popular and powerful tool to learn EFL, so for teachers of English it is always a challenge to provide meaningful and relevant content for students. Movie Trailers are popular and appealing across cultures, and offer current language usage, as they present visual context in which the dialogue takes place and action accompanies speech. Furthermore, the short with very concise, catchy dialogues interplay with highlights of the entire movie. And there are several web sites where teachers can download material without worrying about problems of copyright! If you want to teach English using trailers effectively, this course is for you!

Who is this online course for?

This workshop is for teachers or undergraduate ones who want to teach English using trailers in a meaningful way. It is also directed to those who want to learn the techniques and strategies to deal with moving images in the EFL classroom
